

Stephanie Hulshof - earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Special Education from Texas A&M University and her Masters of Arts in Communication Disorders from the University of Houston. In 2001, Mrs. Hulshof completed her coursework and clinical mentorship that led to her certification as a Board Certified Associate Behavior Analyst under Dr. Vince Carbone, BCBA and worked under his direct supervision for five years. She began her career in Applied Behavior Analysis twelve years ago as an in home ABA instructor for children with autism. As a behavior analyst, Mrs. Hulshof has served a wide-range of learners from children requiring sign language instruction to children requiring instruction in reciprocal vocal conversation throughout the United States and Canada. She is certified in Texas as a Regular and Special Education teacher as well as Reading Specialist.